VITICULTURE

The grapes that gave rise to this wine come exclusively from the vineyards of Quinta de Pancas, located in Alenquer. The vineyards are located in a sequence of hills and valleys, protected by the Serra de Montejunto. The climate is Mediterranean with an Atlantic influence.

TASTING NOTE

A red wine with a deep, intense ruby colour. The aroma is complex and intense, with notes of black fruit and woods complemented by black pepper and dark chocolate. The palate is smooth but intense, with medium structure and firm tannins, showing ageing potential. A flavoursome and gastronomic wine, where the intense profile of our vineyards combines with a 6-month ageing in French oak barrels.
